

Details of itinerary

This 6-day Spiritual & Wellness tour is designed to slow down the pace of travel, focusing on mindfulness, traditional healing, and inner peace. Instead of just "seeing" the sites, this itinerary invites you to participate in rituals and take time for reflection in some of the world's most tranquil settings.

Daily wise Breakdown

Day 1: Paro to Thimphu (Finding Balance -Thimphu)

Upon arrival, drive to the capital. Begin your journey at the Buddha Dordenma, where the air is filled with the scent of incense. You can spend time in the meditation hall below the giant statue. Join the elders at the National Memorial Chorten for evening prayers, observing the rhythmic "Kora" (circumambulation) which is a form of walking meditation.

Day 2: Thimphu the religious site visit (The Path of Silence)

Drive to the northern end of the Thimphu city for a hike to Tango or Cheri Monastery. These are centers for higher Buddhist studies and retreats. Enjoy a silent hike through oak and pine forests. At the top, you may have the opportunity to offer butter lamps and sit in quiet contemplation as monks chant in the background.

Day 3: Thimphu to Punakha (Sacred Landscapes)

Travel to Punakha via Dochula Pass. The 108 stupas here are a memorial and a place of deep peace. Visit the Sangchhen Dorji Lhuendup Nunnery. The atmosphere here is often quieter than the larger monasteries, offering a feminine, nurturing energy perfect for midday meditation overlooking the Punakha and Wangdue valleys.

Day 4: Punakha to Paro (Connection & Antiquity)

Before leaving Punakha, take a mindful walk through the rice paddies to Chimi Lhakhang. Return to Paro and visit Kyichu Lhakhang, one of Bhutan's oldest temples. The courtyard of Kyichu Lhakhang, with its ancient orange trees, is an incredibly grounding place to sit and reflect on your journey.

Day 5: Hike to Tiger's Nest (The Ultimate Pilgrimage)

The hike to Taktsang (Tiger's Nest) is more than a photo opportunity, it is a spiritual trek. Visit the many small chapels within the monastery. Some travelers choose to spend an hour in meditation in one of the quieter corners. End your day with a Traditional Hot Stone Bath (Optional). Large river stones are heated by fire and dropped into a wooden tub of water infused with Artemisia (medicinal herbs). It is the ultimate Bhutanese therapy for body and soul.

Day 6: Transfer to airport (Farewell)

Enjoy a final sunrise meditation session at your resort or hotel before your guide transfers you to Paro International Airport.
